1. In view of the pre-appeal brief filed on 09/29/06, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. The new rejection set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

2. The claims 47-54 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 47-48, 50, 51-52, 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Carlsson et al. (U.S. Patent No. 7,092,381).

In the claim 47, Carlsson discloses an interworking function (figure 5, interworking function 102) for connection a TIA/EIA-136 network (figure 5, Q, col. 8, lines 5-10) to a general Packet Radio Service (GPRS) network (figure 5, GPRS-SC 40, col. 8, lines 1-40), said interworking function (figure 5, 102, abstract) comprising:

A teleservice server for transfer packet data to and from a mobile station operating in said TIA/EIA-136 network (see abstract);

A first communications interface (figure 5, Q, abstract, first interface) for connecting said teleservice server to said TIA/EIA 136 network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40);

A second communications interface (figure 5, Gm, second interface) for connecting said teleservice server to said GPRS network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40);

Interworking function (figure 5, interworking function 102) enabling packet data traffic to be routed between said GPRS network and said mobile station (figure 5, MT) operating in said TIA/EIA-136 network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

5. In the claim 48, Carlsson discloses GPRS network comprising an Enhanced GPRS (EGPRS) network (see figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

6. In the claim 50, Carlsson discloses second interface uses the Base Station Subsystem GPRS Protocol to transfer packet data to and from said GPRS network (see figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

7. In the claim 51, Carlsson discloses a system of providing packet data services, comprising: receiving mobile originated packets at a teleservice server via a first communications interface from a mobile station via a TIA/EIA-136 network (figure 5, Q, col. 8, lines 5-10) (figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40);

Forwarding said mobile originated packets via a second communications interface from said teleservice server to a General Packet Radio Service (GPRS) network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40);

Receiving mobile terminated packets for said mobile station at said teleservice server via said second communications interface from said GPRS (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40);

Forwarding said mobile terminated packets via said first communications interface from said teleservice server to said mobile station (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

8. In the claim 52, Carlsson et al. disclose wherein said GPRS network comprises an Enhanced GPRS (EGPRS) network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

9. In the claim 53, Carlsson et al. disclose wherein said second interface uses the Base Station Subsystem GPRS Protocol (BSSGP) to transfer packet data to and from said GPRS network (see abstract, figure 5, col. 8, lines 1-40).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2616

11. Claims 49, 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carlsson (U.S. Patent No. 7,092,381 B2) in view of Baker et al. (U.S. No. 2005/0197155 A1).

In the claims 49, Carlsson discloses the limitations of claim 47 above.

However, Carlsson is silent to disclosing the General UDP Transport Service to transfer packet data to and from said mobile station.

Baker et al. disclose the General UDP Transport Service to transfer packet data to and from said mobile station (see page 5, [0067]).

Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the system of Carlsson with the teaching of Baker to provide the General UDP Transport Service to transfer packet data to and from said mobile station in order to improve the efficiency of radio resource usage and increase the overall wireless system capacity in a region.

12. In the claim 53, claim 53 is rejected the same reasons of claim 49.
